Help make Global Greening 2015 the biggest ever Invite business partners, family and friends overseas to join in the fun

Tourism Ireland's Global Greening initiative has grown from strength to strength over the past six years. Already, more than 70 iconic sites around the world are signed up for this year including the Colosseum, Sacré-Cœur and the Grand Ole Opry – and, there are many others yet to be announced.

As we count down to St Patrick's Day, we invite you to share this #GoGreen4PatricksDay video with your business partners, family and friends overseas. Encourage them to get involved in greening something on 17 March – their offices, homes, logos, websites, events – they can be as creative as they like. They'll be joining a host of Irish Embassies across the world and agencies like the IDA, Bord Bia and Enterprise Ireland in helping to make 2015 the biggest ever Global Greening – and to achieve even greater 'stand out' for the island of Ireland overseas at this important time for holiday and travel planning.

They can pledge their greening now on Twitter #GoGreen4PatricksDay and then share the photos on 17 March.
