Update from Tourism Ireland Brexit Taskforce meeting

Since the UK referendum on Brexit, Tourism Ireland has been closely monitoring developments in the British outbound travel market. As our nearest neighbour and our largest market for overseas tourism, Britain remains a priority for us. Yesterday, Tourism Ireland hosted another in our series of Brexit Taskforce meetings. It involved leaders of the island of Ireland and GB tourism industries, top tour operators, the European Tour Operators Association and others.

Here's an update from our CEO, Niall Gibbons.
